FIRST HOME-GROWN TAUSUG LAWYER

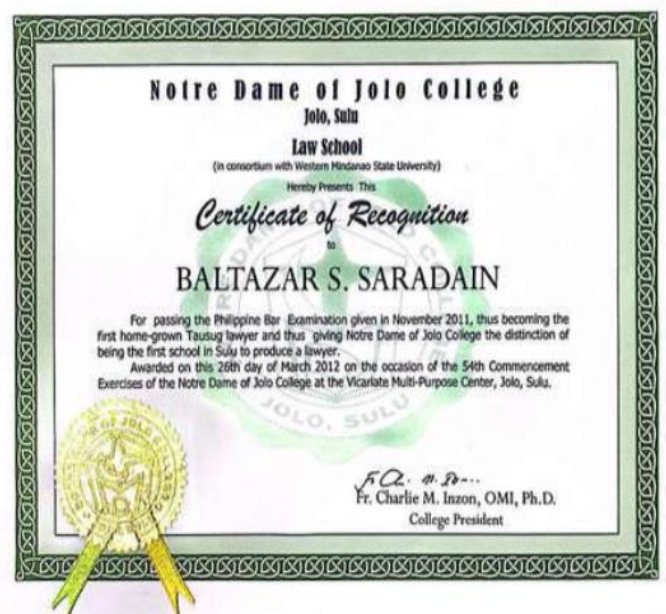

G.8

FSUPT SARADAIN was a trailblazer as the First Home-Grown Tausug lawyer. His entire educational journey, from elementary through law school, took place in Jolo. Notre Dame of Jolo College (NDJC) was the pioneer institution offering a college of law on the island province, operating through a consortium with Western Mindanao State University (WMSU). FSUPT SARADAIN was part of its inaugural law school batch and passed the 2011 Bar Examinations administered by the Supreme Court of the Philippines at the University of Santo Tomas in Sampaloc, Manila.

Despite NDJC producing four graduating batches, Atty. Saradain remains the sole graduate to have passed the Philippine BAR Exam, solidifying his status as the First Home-Grown Tausug lawyer from his homeland. This achievement not only highlights his personal success but also underscores NDJC's distinction as the first school in Sulu to produce a lawyer.

The Dean of WMSU, Dean Eduardo F. Sanson praised Atty. Saradain's accomplishment, noting its exceptional nature. He remarked on the challenges Atty. Saradain faced, studying law in a remote province with limited resources. At that time, access to books, legal references, and Supreme Court cases was scarce, compounded by weak and costly internet access. Despite these obstacles, Atty. Saradain's perseverance and dedication led him to achieve a significant milestone for both himself and his community.

FEATURES

FIREMAN tops Shari'a Bar EXAMINATION '06

The topnotcher of the recently conducted Shari'a Bar Examination last May 21 and 28, 2006 at the Court of Appeals is no other than Baltazar S. Saradain, a fireman from the Office of the Provincial Fire Marshal-Sulu. He is a true pride of the Bureau of Fire Protection.

Our topnotcher hails from Slangkan, Pangasinana, Sulu. Saradain, 25 years old is currently designated as the provincial admin clerk at the Office of the Provincial Fire Marshal-Sulu.

This young lad is a graduate of Bachelor of Science in Accountancy where he was the cum laude. He is currently enrolled at Notre Dame de Jolo College taking up Bachelor of Laws. He is indeed a record breaker in the history of the Shari'a Bar Examination for having the highest score ever recorded (90.15 %) and he was also the youngest among the topnotchers. Although this accomplishment of him had opened greater opportunities in Law profession, he still wanted to pursue his career in the fire service since according to him it is a very noble profession. He wants to follow the footsteps of his father who is also a fireman.

Shari'a Bar Examination is an opportunity to be a lawyer of the Muslim Court. Shari'a Courts (Muslim Courts) have the original jurisdiction over cases involving violations of the Code of Muslim Personal Laws of the Philippines under Presidential Decree No. 1083.

During his second year, first semester at law school, Atty. Saradain participated in a Shariah Training Seminar conducted by the Office on Muslim Affairs (now the National Commission on Muslim Filipinos, NCMF). This seminar was essential not only for supplementing his law school curriculum, which included Islamic Jurisprudence 1 to 5, but also for earning a certificate of completion necessary to qualify for the Special Shariah Bar Examination administered by the Supreme Court of the Philippines.

Atty. Saradain initially approached the Shariah Bar Examination with modest expectations. His primary goal was to assess whether his handwriting was legible and to test his ability to produce readable essay responses under pressure. He viewed this examination as a preparatory step for the regular bar exam.

To his astonishment, the results of the 2006 Shariah Bar Examination, released after six months, revealed that he had not only passed but had emerged as the top scorer with a record-breaking rating of 90.15%. This was a significant margin above the second-place score of 86.45%, marking him as the highest scorer in the history of the exam up to that time.

Atty. Saradain's unexpected triumph in the Shariah Bar Examination not only showcased his academic prowess but also demonstrated his readiness and exceptional skill, setting a new standard in the field.

For successfully organizing and facilitating a very informative, motivational and enjoyable Youth Fire Safety Squad on 17-18 March 2021 at Jolo Daycare Center, Municipal Compound, Jolo, Sulu. The activity inculcated in the participants not only knowledge and skills about First Aid, Basic Life Support, Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and Fire Safety but also a sense of responsibility by being able to provide help at least to oneself and to a small circle of family and friends when the need arises.

Such conceptualization, organizing and facilitating of Youth Fire Safety Squad is a herculean task that requires not just time, efforts, knowledge but also resources and the strong will to pursue such activity to uplift and enhance the Bureau's significant impact to the community.
